Paper 1 Short Answer/Data Response MARK SCHEME Maximum Mark: 80

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the February/March 2025 series for most Cambridge IGCSE, Cambridge International A and AS Level components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptions for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

Cambridge IGCSE – Mark Scheme WWW.dynamicpapersMetral25 PUBLISHED

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Cambridge IGCSE – Mark Scheme WWW.dynamicpaperSMG@12025 PUBLISHED Social Science-Specific Marking Principles (for point-based marking)

| 1 | Co • | mponents using point-based marking: Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion. |
|---|---------------|---|
| | Fro | om this it follows that we: |
| | а | DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term) |
| | b | DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct |
| | С | DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons). |
| | d | DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used wrongly.) |
| | е | DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities |
| | f | DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted). |
| | g | DO NOT require spellings to be correct, unless this is part of the test. However spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion) |
| 2 | Pre • • | esentation of mark scheme: Slashes (/) or the word 'or' separate alternative ways of making the same point. Semi colons (;) bullet points (•) or figures in brackets (1) separate different points. Content in the answer column in brackets is for examiner information/context to clarify the marking but is not required to earn the mark (except Accounting syllabuses where they indicate negative numbers). |

3 Calculation questions:

- The mark scheme will show the steps in the most likely correct method(s), the mark for each step, the correct answer(s) and the mark for each answer
- If working/explanation is considered essential for full credit, this will be indicated in the question paper and in the mark scheme. In all other instances, the correct answer to a calculation should be given full credit, even if no supporting working is shown.
- Where the candidate uses a valid method which is not covered by the mark scheme, award equivalent marks for reaching equivalent stages.
- Where an answer makes use of a candidate's own incorrect figure from previous working, the 'own figure rule' applies: full marks will be given if a correct and complete method is used. Further guidance will be included in the mark scheme where necessary and any exceptions to this general principle will be noted.

4 Annotation:

- For point marking, ticks can be used to indicate correct answers and crosses can be used to indicate wrong answers. There is no direct relationship between ticks and marks. Ticks have no defined meaning for levels of response marking.
- For levels of response marking, the level awarded should be annotated on the script.
- Other annotations will be used by examiners as agreed during standardisation, and the meaning will be understood by all examiners who marked that paper.

Annotations guidance for centres

Examiners use a system of annotations as a shorthand for communicating their marking decisions to one another. Examiners are trained during the standardisation process on how and when to use annotations. The purpose of annotations is to inform the standard isation and monitoring processes and guide the supervising examiners when they are checking the work of examiners within their team. The meaning of annotations and how they are used is specific to each component and is understood by all examiners who mark the component.

We publish annotations in our mark schemes to help centres understand the annotations they may see on copies of scripts. Note that there may not be a direct correlation between the number of annotations on a script and the mark awarded. Similarly, the use of an annotation may not be an indication of the quality of the response.

The annotations listed below were available to examiners marking this component in this series.

Annotations

| Annotation | Meaning |
|------------|--|
| ✓ | Correct point. |
| × | Incorrect point. |
| BOD | Used when the benefit of the doubt is given in order to reward a response. |
| TV | Used when parts of the answer are considered to be too vague to be given credit. |
| REP | Indicates where content has been repeated. |
| NAQ | Used when the answer or parts of the answer do not answer the question asked. |
| K | Indicates knowledge and understanding of the concepts and issues relating to the question. |
| APP | Indicates appropriate reference to the information in the stem. |
| AN | Indicates where the answer has demonstrated analysis. |

| Annotation | Meaning |
|------------|--|
| EVAL | Indicates where the answer has demonstrated evaluation (part (e) questions only). |
| OFR | If a mistake is made in a calculation, and the incorrect figure that results from the mistake is used for subsequent calculations. |
| SEEN | Indicates that the page or content has been seen by examiner, but no credit given. |

|----------|--|-------|---|
| 1(e) | Do you think secondary market research is the most appropriate method of market research for a business to use when deciding whether it should expand? Justify your answer. Award 1 mark for each relevant point [max 2]. Award 1 mark for each relevant explanation [max 2]. Award up to 2 marks for a justified decision as to whether secondary market research is the most appropriate method of market research for a business to use when deciding whether it should expand. Points might include: Secondary market research: Low cost [k] so more funds to spend in other areas of the business [an] Quick to obtain [k] so may speed up decision-making [an] Data may be out of date [k] so may not make appropriate decisions [an] Wide range of data [k] Data may not be relevant [k] Data is available for all businesses [k] Primary market research [k] More in-depth information [an] Specific / only available to the business [an] Up to date [an] May not have the necessary skills to collect data [an] Expensive [an] Takes time to collect [an] Other appropriate responses should be credited. | 6 | This is a general question so there are no marks for application. Some points can be [k] or [an] but do not accept the same point twice. Some points can be written as advantages or disadvantages of each method, but only award once. For evaluation to be awarded justification will usually follow on from relevant analysis of points. |

| Question | Answer | Marks | Guidance |
|----------|--|-------|----------|
| 1(e) | Justification might include: Secondary market research is cheap [k] so more funds can be invested into other areas of the business [an]. However, the data may be out of date [k] so may make inappropriate decisions [an]. Secondary market research is not the most appropriate method to use because although it is cheap, the wrong decisions about expansion can cost the business even more money in the long run [eval] [eval]. | | |

| 2(e) | Do you think price skimming is the best pricing method for a business to use when introducing a new product? Justify your answer. Award 1 mark for each relevant point [max 2]. Award 1 mark for each relevant explanation [max 2]. Award up to 2 marks for justified decision as to whether price skimming is the best pricing method to use when introducing a new product. Points might include: Price skimming: Gives the image of high quality [k] which may increase reputation [an] May be quick to recover research/development costs [k] to break even sooner [an] Increase profit margin [k] (High price) may encourage competitors to enter the market [k] which can decrease market share [an] (High price) may decrease demand [k] which may decrease revenue [an] Other pricing methods include: Penetration pricing [k] as the low price may be more affordable [an] which increases sales [an] Cost-plus pricing [k] as is simple to use [an] Competitive pricing [k] so should not lose sales to competition on price alone [an] Other appropriate answers should be credited. | 6 | This is a general question so there are no marks for application. To access marks, points must refer to a specific pricing method. Advantages or disadvantages of other methods can be awarded as [an]. Some points can be awarded as [an] for different methods, but only award once. |

| Question | Answer | Marks | Guidance |
| 2(e) | Justification might include: Price skimming means that it may be quick to recover development costs [k] which means funds can be reinvested back into the business [an]. Whereas using penetration pricing [k] can make the product more affordable [an]. Price skimming is not the best method because the high price might discourage customers from trying the product whereas penetration pricing could generate more sales [eval] and increase market share for the new product [eval]. | | |

| | Justification might include: Batch production is flexible [k] which means businesses can quickly respond to changes in customer tastes [an]. However, flow production [k] might be better as a high output is produced [an]. Batch production is better because responding to customer tastes means you are likely to have less waste products [eval] whereas using flow could result in very high quantities of unwanted products which increases costs [eval]. | | |

| 4(e) | Do you think the introduction of a legal minimum wage will always have a negative effect on a business? Justify your answer. | 6 | This is a general question so there are no marks for application. |
| | Award 1 mark for each relevant point [max 2] Award 1 mark for each relevant explanation [max 2]. Award up to 2 marks for a justified decision as to whether the introduction of a legal minimum wage will always have a negative effect on a business. | | |
| | Points might include: May encourage more people to apply for jobs [k] making it easier to recruit [an] Business may already pay above minimum wage so would have limited/no effect on costs [k] Increase motivation [k] increasing productivity/reduce absenteeism/labour turnover [an] Have to pay more to employees [k] which will increase costs [an] so may have to increase prices [an] May not be able to afford to pay all workers the higher wage rate [k] so may have to make redundancies [an] Other workers being paid more than the minimum wage may ask for a wage increase [k] May have to find other ways to reduce costs [k] which may reduce quality [an] | | |
| | Justification might include: It may increase motivation [k] increasing productivity [an]. However, it can lead to high costs [k] so prices may have to be increased [an]. The introduction of a minimum wage may not always have a negative effect as it will apply to all businesses so competitors may also have to increase their prices so the business may not lose any competitive advantage [eval]. The increase in productivity could even offset some of the increase in cost [eval]. | | |
