Paper 4 (Alternative to Coursework), maximum raw mark 40

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2015 series for most Cambridge IGCSE®, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

Information Suggestions

The information listed below attempts to indicate some of the detail and issues that candidates may wish to address in their answers. This list does not claim to be exclusive or exhaustive. Marks should be awarded on the quality of detail used and quality of argument deployed as defined in the generic mark scheme.

Depth Study A: The First World War, 1914–1918

1 How important were submarines in the war at sea? Explain your answer.

Yes Germans ordered U-boats to attack supply ships from the USA from 1915 to starve Britain out of the War; Britain had to farm more land, grow more wheat; Women's Land Army set up; 1918 rationing introduced due to shortages; 1917 convoys introduced to reduce effect of U-boats; 1917 unrestricted U-boat warfare – about one in four supply ships were sunk increasing shortages in Britain; helped to bring USA into the war – 1915 Lusitania sunk and 100 Americans drowned; by June 1917, 500 000 tons of allied shipping had been lost and at that time London was within six weeks of starvation; encouraged shipbuilding to increase in the USA and Britain, reducing impact of shortages; lack of good detection technology for submerged U-boats even by 1918; relatively few battles between warships during the whole war – Battle of Jutland failed to remove blockade etc.

No Use of mines, torpedoes, depth charges, rams and netting meant there were effective weapons against spotted submarines; Anti-Submarine Division of the Royal Navy set up to deal with underwater warfare shared ideas; seaplanes and airships helped with detection in Atlantic and British seas; 'guard loops' were a cable used to pick up magnetic field of U-boats; convoy system reduced loss of tonnage to 1% from around 30%; British Blockade more effective as German trade dropped from $6 billion in 1914 to $0.8 by 1917 – Germans suffered severe shortages; 1914 German cruiser Goeben made it to Constantinople evading Royal Navy and allowed Turkish entry into war on the side of Germany; Battle of Jutland saw Germany sink 14 British ships etc.

2 How significant was the abdication of the Kaiser in bringing Germany's participation in the war to an end? Explain your answer.

Yes In November 1918 revolution broke out as the people suffered the impact of the war; Kaiser fled to Holland and abdicated – demanded by the Allies; the end of monarchy in Germany; enabled the establishment of a democratic republic in Germany – Ebert accepted the Armistice the next day; allowed peace to be made; saved Germany from invasion etc.

No Depends on whether the candidates think that the abdication changed things; the 1918 Revolution may well have spread further to remove the monarchy anyway; abdication did not change the hardships suffered by Germans; the abdication was more important nationally and internationally in the political sense and changes that followed; far less important to the social and economic situation for Germans; Germany exhausted militarily and economically; failure of Ludendorff Offensive in 1918; US entry into the War in 1917; Germany's allies already negotiating peace before abdication etc.

Depth Study B: Germany, 1918–1945

3 How important was the Treaty of Versailles in causing the domestic problems of the Weimar Republic to 1929? Explain your answer.

Yes War Guilt Clause led to humiliation and resentment – especially ex-soldiers and Generals; ‘stab in the back myth’; reparations of £6.6 billion led to economic hardship – Germany’s failure to pay led to Ruhr invasion in 1923 (France not happy with Versailles Settlement) and subsequent hyperinflation; German territorial losses – 13% of land lost to Poland, Denmark, Belgium, France and Lithuania – led to displaced German families; overseas territories lost – German status a world power decreased, helped right-wing extremist parties gain support; military terms of Treaty – 100 000 soldiers, 15 000 sailors, six battleships, no U-boats, tanks or air force, no conscription and demilitarised Rhineland left Germany weak and defenceless; unemployed soldiers led to freikorps growth – 1920 Kapp Putsch and 1923 Munich Putsch etc.

No Germany already bankrupt at the end of the First World War – Naval Blockade etc.; left – wing extremism already causing civil unrest before Versailles e.g. Spartacists in 1919; new Weimar Constitution gave emergency powers to President which weakened democracy; Reichstag was weak due to coalitions and proportional representation; Stresemann dealt with economic problems caused by Versailles – Dawes Plan, 1924 gave loans from USA (led to problems in 1929 after Wall Street Crash), Young Plan, 1929; he ended hyperinflation and introduced new currency – Rentenmark; Locarno Treaty, 1925 and Germany joins League of Nations in 1926 etc.

4 How significant was the Night of the Long Knives in securing Hitler’s control of Germany? Explain your answer.

Yes Removed internal threat of Rohm and SA – approx. four million members of SA by 1934; gained support of German Generals of the Reichswehr who were threatened by the size of the SA and Rohm’s plans to merge the army with the SA to create a ‘People’s Militia’ – after death of Hindenburg, armed forces swore an oath of loyalty to Hitler August 1934; demonstrated Hitler’s ruthlessness to the nation, the Nazi Party and opposition; made other top Nazis (e.g. Goering, Himmler and Goebbels) ‘bloody’ their hands; allowed Hitler to remove other non-SA opposition e.g. von Schleicher and Gregor Strasser (Nazi political rival); Hindenburg threatened to declare Martial Law after SA uprising in Berlin – congratulated Hitler after the purge etc.

No Other more significant factors: Nazis had been the largest party in the Reichstag since July 1932 – by March 1933 had 44% of the seats; Reichstag Fire Feb 1933 led to emergency powers for Hitler to deal with communist threat – 3000 KPD members arrested and sent to Dachau; Enabling Act March 1933 – Hitler gains dictatorial powers – led to control over police, courts; trade unions banned and DAF formed to control workers; all other political parties banned (one-party state); Concordat with Catholic Church; Nazi control of all forms of media and constant Nazi propaganda (Goebbels as Minister of Propaganda and Enlightenment); use of SA violence and intimidation; SS and Gestapo; fear of concentration camps etc.

Yes Kornilov – army commander in chief, decided to move against the Petrograd Soviet in August; soldiers mutinied and Kornilov arrested; Bolsheviks had been hit by Provisional government's attacks in the 'July Days' – Lenin fled and others imprisoned; Bolsheviks let out from prison and armed to face the threat – Bolsheviks were seen as saviours of the Revolution – Bolshevik membership increases (approx. 200 000 by October); stayed out of prison and kept arms; the affair, therefore, encouraged the November seizure of power etc.

No More important were the other areas of dissatisfaction – continuation of the war, actions and propaganda of Bolsheviks (Peace, Land, Bread), deserters and strikers united in cities; shortages of food and fuel; increasing domination of the Petrograd Soviet by the Bolsheviks – Trotsky chairman in October; middle class wanted elections and a fairer system of government; organisation and single purpose of Bolsheviks; there appeared to be no change from the time the Tsar was in power – no elections planned for a Constituent Assembly; the Provisional Government was undergoing terrible problems due to the failure of the June Offensive; land issues not solved and peasants were grabbing farm land from the nobility; return of exiles like Lenin and other leaders etc.

6 How important were the purges of the 1930s to Stalin's control of the USSR? Explain your answer.

Yes First sign of purges came in 1928 when Stalin accused engineers in the Donbass mining district of sabotage and in 1931 former Mensheviks were put on trial; main purges came after death of Kirov in Leningrad, 1934; Stalin probably had him killed and used his death to purge the Party of Stalin's opponents; Show Trials – Kamenev and Zinoviev, and then Bukharin in 1938 – all confessed to being traitors; about 500 000 charged with anti-Soviet activities, sent to gulags or shot; Trotsky assassinated in 1940; army was purged of 25 000 officers – impact when Hitler invaded; teachers, engineers, managers and workers all disappeared – usually at night; torture and threats to family; 18 million sent to camps by the end of 1937, 10 million died; Stalin's paranoia – purged anyone who might be a threat to him or his will; stopped independent thinking; almost every family had at least one member arrested; fear breeds control etc.

No There were other methods of control: 'Cult of Personality' made him appear omniscient – overseer of the country's welfare; photos, pictures, statues, street and town names; propaganda and control of all forms of art, literature and music; youth brainwashed in Young Pioneers; education – history re-written; the new constitution of 1936 was supposed to give free elections and freedom of speech but only Party members could stand and the press was controlled; religious worship was banned – people encouraged to worship Stalin instead; some were very enthusiastic for Stalin and communism –volunteers for major projects; rewards for hard work – Stakhanovites etc.

Depth Study D: The USA, 1919–1941

7 How significant was discrimination against black Americans as an aspect of intolerance in American society in the 1920s? Explain your answer.

Yes ‘Birth of a Nation’ influenced attitudes in the South against black Americans – black Americans seen as savages; growth in popularity of KKK, especially in the South and Mid-West – membership at 4.5 million by 1925; still deep resentment in the South for loss of Civil War in 1865; number of lynchings increased; Jim Crow Laws enforced – segregation in schools, hospitals, public amenities etc.; black Americans faced discrimination in Northern cities over pay, housing, jobs; intolerance extended to legal system and law enforcement, even top politicians involved in the KKK e.g. Governor of Texas etc.

No Other forms of intolerance more significant – ‘Red Scare’ led to fear of immigrants, especially those from Eastern Europe; fear of communism and anarchism – led to Palmer Raids and Sacco And Vanzetti trial and execution; Immigration Acts and reduced quota of non-white immigration; religious intolerance in the ‘Bible Belt’ – Scope’s Trial and Christian fundamentalism; Prohibition more significant as led to growth of ‘gangsterism’, increased alcohol consumption, illegal ‘moonshine’, smuggling; intolerance towards changing attitudes to women – rural conservative Americans disliked ‘flappers’ etc.

8 How important was the banking crisis amongst the consequences of the Wall Street Crash? Explain your answer.

Yes More than 5000 banks closed in the first three years of the Depression; some customers were unable to withdraw money as banks closed their doors; other banks were forced to close as customers withdrew all of their savings; banks were unable to lend money to businesses, slowing economic growth rapidly – led to unemployment; banks called in loans and mortgages – affected poorer farmers particularly; banks were unable to support the stock market so share prices continued to drop and thus large companies went bankrupt; massive loss of confidence in the banking system etc.

No Massive drop in share prices – by July 1932, 89% loss in stock market share prices since 1929; many speculators and investors went bankrupt – led to increased socio-economic problems and suicide; unemployment reached 13 million by 1933 (25% of workforce); collapse of food prices after 1929; drop in wages. However, could argue Roosevelt solves banking problems in 1933 – Emergency Banking Act – 5% of the total were closed; led to election of Roosevelt and ‘shunning’ of Hoover and Republican policies; ‘Bonus’ Marchers; growth of shanty towns (Hooverilles) and soup kitchens; ineffective response by Hoover administration etc.

Depth Study E: China, c.1930–1990

9 How important for the economic progress of China were the changes made to agriculture between 1949 and 1960? Explain your answer.

Yes The gradual confiscation of landlords' land, started during the Civil War, was extended to the rest of the country; the peasants were then persuaded to join together in co-operatives (collectives) in order to increase production; by 1956, 95% were in co-operatives (of 100–300 families) with joint ownership of farms and equipment; Great Leap Forward introduced larger units of communes – up to 75 000 people, divided into brigades, work teams with an elected council; had own farms and factories, acted as a form of local government; undertook local projects; crèches allowed women to work more; had own specialists; each family had a share of profits and small plot of land; in the long run production increased and able to feed without famine; effective local government tool; China's economy based on agriculture etc.

No The initial handing of land to peasants was not efficient for production; there was some opposition to communes, and with bad harvests in 1959–61, and the withdrawal of Soviet aid in 1960, major difficulties were encountered – and the cadres leading the organisation were inexperienced; estimated deaths due to Great Leap Forward at over 20 million; Mao had to resign as Chairman of the People's congress but remained chairman of the party; short term impact of famine and popularity of Mao etc.

10 How significant in bringing about change in China have been its relationships with the rest of the world since Mao's death? Explain your answer.

No China happy to develop economic ties with most of the world but unwilling to accept any criticism of CCP's control of issues within China; tensions over Tiananmen Square and subsequent crack down on students/intellectuals who wanted more and faster democracy; felt that to have given way to student demands for liberalisation would have meant too much too soon; example of Gorbachev in trying to introduce economic and political reforms at same time helped break up USSR and lost control of eastern Europe; happy to talk and work together as long as no country tried to interfere with Chinese internal affairs etc.

No ANC more significant – Mandela principal negotiator and early on leader of Youth Wing, along with Tambo and Sisulu; relevance of PAC; MK and terrorism; Programme of Action involved Youth League of the ANC; Freedom Charter 1956; overseas condemnation of apartheid; UN resolutions; trade and sport embargoes; religious leaders such as Tutu; Steve Biko and Black Consciousness; role of de Klerk etc.

No New organisation, very much under influence of Truman and USA in early days; even if peace keeping forces have been accepted they are often seen as a barrier to national ambitions; UNRWA gave aid but did nothing to solve the problem of refugees – some in camps for decades; frustration, extremism, joining groups; resolutions may be agreed at UN but often ignored by Palestinians, Israel and Arab states; interference by superpowers up to the break-up of USSR; oil weapon; Kissinger’s ‘shuttle diplomacy’; real progress by US presidents after 1973; Arafat and PLO; Hamas and Hezbollah; Intifadas; Oslo Accords and Palestinian Authority etc.

Yes 1967 – Syria and Jordan had been chiding Nasser for inaction against Israel; Radio Cairo attacks on Israel; Arab states massing troops on Israel’s borders – warning; Israel attacked – Arab states accepted UN cease fire; slow Arab build up, inadequate preparation and lack of coordination; different agendas; agreed on wishing to destroy Israel but lacked coordination etc.

1973 – PLO hi-jacking embarrassed Jordan – expelled PLO; Munich 1972 put pressure on Arab states; Sadat hoped for a peaceful settlement supported by USA or USSR; decided to attack in hope of superpower interference; caught Israel off guard but Israel organised and dealt with each in turn; again no coordination. Kissinger ‘shuttle diplomacy’ led to Sadat visiting Israel and recognition – assassination; Arabs split etc.
