Read Text A, *Are humans the only primates that can talk?, in the insert and then answer Questions 1(a)–1(e) on this question paper.

Question 1

(a) Give two examples of primates that have surprised and impressed research scientists according to the text.

- [1]

(b) Using your own words, explain what the text means by:

(i) 'provide evidence' (line 2):

- [2]

(ii) 'range of gestures' (line 4):

- [2]

(c) Re-read paragraph 2 ('Humans ... talk?').

Give two reasons why it seems particularly surprising that only human primates can actually talk.

- [2]

(d) Re-read paragraphs 3 and 4 ('As scientist ... the earth.').

(i) Identify the two main tasks Dr Dunn completed to carry out his research.

- [2]

(ii) Explain why scientists are studying these different primate species.

- [3]

(e) Re-read paragraph 5 ('However, other ... explore.').

Using your own words, explain why some people might not accept the findings of the research.

- [3]

Read Text C, A window on the world – my years with chimpanzees, in the insert and then answer Questions 2(a)–2(d) on this question paper.

Question 2

(a) Identify a word or phrase from the text which suggests the same idea as the words underlined:

(i) The writer knew that although the chimps' day had begun quietly this could change to a chaotic, noisy situation.

..... [1]

(ii) The chimps made regular stops to eat.

..... [1]

(iii) The grassy ridge provided a place from which to observe the chimps.

..... [1]

(iv) People thought that chimps were calm, even-tempered animals who did not eat meat.

..... [1]

(b) Using your own words, explain what the writer means by each of the words underlined:

A surge of memories flooded back. Gradually in those days I'd pieced together fragments from their daily lives, feeding habits, travel routes and social structure. Thinking back I relived the thrill of watching Greybeard fishing for termites with stems of grass – picking a wide blade of grass and trimming it carefully so it could be poked into the narrow passage of the termite mound. What a discovery – humans weren't the only tool-making animals!

(i) habits [1]

(ii) picking [1]

(iii) trimming [1]

- (c) Use one example from the text below to explain how the writer suggests Jane's feelings that day.

Use your own words in your explanation.

A surge of memories flooded back. Gradually in those days I'd pieced together fragments from their daily lives, feeding habits, travel routes and social structure. Thinking back I relived the thrill of watching Greybeard fishing for termites with stems of grass – picking a wide blade of grass and trimming it carefully so it could be poked into the narrow passage of the termite mound. Re-read Text C, A window on the world – my years with chimpanzees, in the insert and then answer Question 3 on this question paper.

Question 3

You are a journalist writing a magazine article about Jane Goodall's work.

In your magazine article you should:

- explain what Jane's work involves and the challenges it presents
- explain what Jane has learned about chimpanzees and their lives
- suggest why Jane's work is important and what she hopes to achieve.

Write the words of the magazine article.

Base your magazine article on what you have read in Text C, but be careful to use your own words. Address each of the three bullets points.

Write about 250 to 350 words.

Up to 15 marks are available for the content of your answer and up to 10 marks for the quality of your writing.
