for the guidance of teachers

0500 FIRST LANGUAGE ENGLISH

0500/32

Paper 3 (Directed Writing and Composition), maximum raw mark 50

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

- CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2010 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Note: All Examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

- Articulate experience and express what is thought, felt and imagined
- Order and present facts, ideas and opinions
- Understand and use a range of appropriate vocabulary
- Use language and register appropriate to audience and context

A documentary on television captures your attention. In this programme two families have recently taken part in a research project looking into the positive and negative effects of television on family life. Family X agreed to the removal of all television programmes and film for a period of three months. Family Y were asked to carry on as normal.

Makers of the documentary have invited responses on their website.

Write an article for the website on the subject of television and family life. In your article you should: identify the positive and negative aspects of television in the home and evaluate the role played by television in family life.

Base what you write on the ideas found in the transcripts on the opposite page. You should write between 1½ and 2 sides, allowing for the size of your handwriting. Up to ten marks will be available for the content of your answer, and up to fifteen marks for the quality of your writing.

General notes on likely content

Responses should try and integrate the positive and negative aspects of television in the home as highlighted in both Family X and Family Y's statements. Both have lots to say about the addictive nature or automatic use of this device, but Y does make some reasonable points about being selective. The statements are not in any order as such, but conclusions are drawn in each.

A Issues raised in Family Y – negative

- Saskia initially believes that the family are not 'couch potatoes' but later admits that 'the television would be on all evening'.
- Reasons for this included: switching it on for noise or company if alone/that one programme merged into another, not being selective and allowing it to fill in gaps between favourite shows and news.
- Used the television to escape homework/washing up or having to make conversation.
- Addictive properties – especially for younger children who have favourite shows.
- Serious gaps (in both families' communication) are addressed by this experiment.

B Positive issues raised in both Family X and Family Y

- The experiment raises awareness of television viewing habits.
- It has jolted Family Y into asking questions: why view a certain programme/who turns the television on first/what could the family do instead?
- Saskia's interest in travel/documentaries have fuelled her desire to travel and do voluntary work.
- Also the younger children have an interest in new inventions, car programmes and 'Pet Rescue' that have positive effects on their plans for future careers/present interests.
- Social aspect of the family watching a good film together and perhaps talking about it afterwards.
- Although the Family X point is about a break from the news, responses could cite this as a positive feature – that all the family is aware of what is going on in the world.
- Break from predictable chat shows or reality programmes.
- Break from the news being read out every half hour or so.
- Any activities provoke conversation amongst family members.
- Spin offs include having more energy/getting fresh air/healthier.

C What happens when you give TV its proper role in the family

- You and your family have time to live a full and healthy life together (instead of staying in and watching 'fake' people having their TV lives).
- You learn to communicate with each other.
- You take up real sports, go bowling, go on bike rides (etc.).
- You become helpful in the house, washing up (etc.).
- You help your siblings with homework.
- You encourage your parents to live independent lives (salsa dancing).

	IGCSE – October/November 2010	0500	32

The question is marked out of 10 for Reading and 15 for Writing.

Use the following table to give a mark out of 10 for Reading.

Band 1	9–10	Makes a thorough, perceptive, convincing evaluation of ideas from the two accounts and creates a persuasive, rhetorical and mature article. Reads effectively between the lines. Develops the reading material and integrates it into the response to the task.
Band 2	7–8	A good evaluation of the ideas, using reading material to support the argument. Occasionally effective development of some of the ideas in the material.
Band 3	5–6	A number of points are quoted to make a satisfactory response. Responses cover the material satisfactorily, but may miss opportunities to develop it relevantly or at length.
Band 4	3–4	Selects points from the passage rather literally and/or uses material thinly. Does not combine points into a connected piece.
Band 5	1–2	Parts of the answer are relevant, though material may be repeated injudiciously, or wrongly used.
Band 6	0	Answer does not relate to question and/or too much unselective copying directly from the material to gain a mark in Band 5.

Use the following table to give a mark out of 15 for Writing.

Band 1	13–15	Excellent, consistent sense of audience; persuasive/authoritative style; very fit for purpose. Fluent, varied sentences/wide range of vocabulary. Strong sense of structure, paragraphing and sequence. Virtually no error.
Band 2	10–12	Sense of audience mostly secure; quite stylish and fluent; sense of overall structure; arguments occasionally well developed. Writing is mainly accurate, sentences and language generally effective in places.
Band 3	8–9	Occasional sense of audience; mostly written in accurate, if fairly straightforward sentences; some argument, though not strong; mostly quite well structured; errors minor; language straightforward.
Band 4	5–7	Appropriate if sometimes inconsistent style; sentences mainly accurate; fact rather than argument; basic structure: has beginning, middle and end; fairly frequent (minor) errors; perhaps including sentence separation; sentences and/or vocabulary simple.
Band 5	3–4	Functional expression; largely factual with little/no argument; has a beginning, but main part of response not always well sequenced; some serious errors in grammar/punctuation/use of vocabulary. Errors slightly intrusive.
Band 6	1–2	Language and style not clear; some blurring and lack of order; despite some serious errors, can mainly be followed. Simple sentences.
Band 7	0	Serious inaccuracies and difficulties with language and grammar are too intrusive to gain a mark in Band 6.

Section 2: Composition

Questions 2 (a), 2 (b), 3 (a), 3 (b), 4 (a) and 4 (b).

Give two marks:

- the first mark is out of 13 for Content and Structure: see Table A
- the second mark is out of 12 for Style and Accuracy: see Table B

Remember that these marks will not necessarily match and one mark may well be (much) higher than the other.

The maximum overall mark for the Composition is 25. Write the total clearly at the end as follows: C7 + S10 = 17 (C for Content and Structure, S for Style and Accuracy).

Argumentative/discursive writing

- 2 (a) Do you think that it is right for English, in all its forms, to become the most important world language? [25]
- (b) 'The school curriculum provides everything that the average teenager needs to know for adult life.' What are your views on this statement? [25]

Descriptive writing

- 3 (a) Write a descriptive account entitled 'The Flower Seller'. [25]
- (b) You have to get to an important event or meeting, but the vehicle you are in is held up in a traffic jam. Describe what is going on around you and your feelings during the delay. [25]

Narrative writing

- 4 (a) 'Nothing could have survived that explosion, so what on earth is that climbing out of the...!' Use this sentence at an important point in your story. [25]
- (b) Write a story in which greed plays an important part. [25]
