MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 80

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2023 series for most Cambridge IGCSE, Cambridge International A and AS Level and Cambridge Pre-U components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 20 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Social Science-Specific Marking Principles (for point-based marking)

1 Components using point-based marking:

- Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:

- a DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term)
- b DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct
- c DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons ...).
- d DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used wrongly.)
- e DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities
- f DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).
- g DO NOT require spellings to be correct, unless this is part of the test. However spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion)

2 Presentation of mark scheme:

- Slashes (/) or the word 'or' separate alternative ways of making the same point.
- Semi colons (;) bullet points (•) or figures in brackets (1) separate different points.
- Content in the answer column in brackets is for examiner information/context to clarify the marking but is not required to earn the mark (except Accounting syllabuses where they indicate negative numbers).

3 Calculation questions:

- The mark scheme will show the steps in the most likely correct method(s), the mark for each step, the correct answer(s) and the mark for each answer
- If working/explanation is considered essential for full credit, this will be indicated in the question paper and in the mark scheme. In all other instances, the correct answer to a calculation should be given full credit, even if no supporting working is shown.
- Where the candidate uses a valid method which is not covered by the mark scheme, award equivalent marks for reaching equivalent stages.
- Where an answer makes use of a candidate's own incorrect figure from previous working, the 'own figure rule' applies: full marks will be given if a correct and complete method is used. Further guidance will be included in the mark scheme where necessary and any exceptions to this general principle will be noted.

4 Annotation:

- For point marking, ticks can be used to indicate correct answers and crosses can be used to indicate wrong answers. There is no direct relationship between ticks and marks. Ticks have no defined meaning for levels of response marking.
- For levels of response marking, the level awarded should be annotated on the script.
- Other annotations will be used by examiners as agreed during standardisation, and the meaning will be understood by all examiners who marked that paper.

Annotation	Description	Use
Tick	Tick	Indicates a point which is relevant and rewardable (used in part (a) questions).
Cross	Cross	Indicates a point which is inaccurate/irrelevant and not rewardable.
BOD	Benefit of doubt	Used when the benefit of the doubt is given in order to reward a response.
TV	Too vague	Used when parts of the answer are considered to be too vague.
REP	Repetition	Indicates where content has been repeated.
NAQ	Not answered question	Used when the answer or parts of the answer are not answering the question asked.
APP	Application	Indicates appropriate reference to the information in the context.
OFR	Own figure rule	If a mistake is made in a calculation, and the incorrect figure that results from the mistake is used for subsequent calculations.
SEEN	Noted but no credit given	Indicates that content has been recognised but not rewarded.
L1	Level 1	Used in part (b) questions to indicate where a response includes limited knowledge and understanding.
L2	Level 2	Used in part (b) questions to indicate where a response has a more detailed discussion and contains some evidence of justification.
L3	Level 3	Used in part (b) questions to indicate where a response includes a well-justified recommendation.

		Advantages	Disadvantages
	Unincorporated business	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Partners are in complete control of the business • Do not have to share profits with shareholders – may lead to higher profits each if shared between fewer owners • Easy to set up the theatre and will have few legal requirements to operate the business – reducing effort and cost to set up 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Unlimited liability – could lose all personal possessions • Limited sources of capital – if only 2 partners invest in the business as limited to their own capital • Partners are responsible for all decisions taken by either partner if mistakes are made – may lead to personal financial losses and may be equally liable
	Limited company	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Limited liability – owners personal possessions will not be used to pay business debts • Owners and business are separate legal identities – provides continuity on the death of owners • Can sell shares to raise capital to set-up the theatre – to family and friends – large amounts of capital may be raised 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Accounts are not private – competing theatres may access the accounts • Not easy to transfer shares as a private limited company – may make it difficult to sell shares to family and friends • Legal formalities to set up – may take more time and cost than a partnership • Legal formalities to operate the company – needs to have accounts audited and registered with the government takes time and increases costs

Question	Answer		Marks
1(b)	Recommendation	Justification may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ET should be an unincorporated business because it is easy to set up the partnership. Zane and Zaara will have complete control of the theatre and keep all the profits. There are not the legal formalities with a partnership that will increase costs that there are if ET was a private limited company. ET should be a limited company to gain the benefits of limited liability. If anything goes wrong with the theatre, then any liability will only be for an amount invested in the business, all Zane and Zaara's personal belongings will be safe.

		Advantages	Disadvantages
	Option 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Fewer employees are required to put on a performance – reducing total variable costs Costs for scenery and costumes is the lowest of the two options – $1000 lower than Option 2 Total cost is the lowest of the two options – at $1210 per performance Lowest price per seat at $10 – so likely to sell all the tickets ensuring the estimated revenue is received 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The average wage cost is the highest – $20 higher than Option 2 Makes a loss of $210 for each performance Lowest revenue gained for each performance of the two options – $1000 per performance

Question	Answer		Marks
2(b)	Recommendation	Justification may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ET should choose Option 1 to have in the theatre as it has the cheapest total cost at $1210 per performance. As the theatre is new it should try to keep its costs as low as possible. Option 2 has much higher costs to put on the performances and ET may not have the funds to do this. Also the price per ticket is higher for the other option and as the theatre is located in a low-income area of Main City the theatre may not sell all 100 seats and the estimated revenue may not be received. ET should choose Option 2 for the theatre as it makes a profit of $260 per performance when the revenue is $2500.

Question	Answer		Marks
3(b)	Conclusion	Justification may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identifying customer needs is most important because if these needs are not understood then the theatre may plan and pay to put on a performance that will not attract customers, leading to a loss. Satisfying customer needs is less important to the success of the theatre as if the needs have been identified then it is more likely that these will be met by the chosen performance. As theatres may keep attracting new audiences such as tourists then maintaining customer loyalty may be less important as long as the different needs of these audiences have been identified. Satisfying customer needs is most important because if customers are disappointed with the performance, then they will tell their friends and family about it and ET will gain a poor reputation. This may lead to fewer sales of seats for future performances leading to ET being less successful. Maintaining customer loyalty is most important as without this it will mean the theatre will need to keep attracting new customers and this is expensive to research suitable plays and shows that they will want to see. Marketing costs will therefore be lower if regular customers keep coming back to watch the shows.

Question	Answer		Marks
4(b)	Conclusion	Justification may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Paying fair wages is likely to have the biggest effect on ET as this may increase costs which may lead to higher prices for the 100 seats so customers may go to their competitors instead and reduce revenue. Costumes from the local community may be of lower quality but if the performance is good then people will still buy tickets and revenue will not be affected. Refreshments only have a small impact on the theatre as they are a small proportion of the overall costs and revenue. So higher costs and lower revenue due to paying fair wages is likely to have the biggest effect on ET. • Costumes produced locally provides work for the local community, so ET is more likely to sell all 100 seats for each performance as local people have the income to buy the tickets. Higher revenue from sales will lead to the biggest effect on ET. • Refreshments purchased from ethical suppliers will lead to a good reputation for the theatre and hence attract customers concerned with the environment so revenue will be higher as more tickets are sold for each performance leading to higher profits for ET.
